So you're telling me THIS guy was the one that put together the plan to bomb nashville? Yea this shit glows

This is an inside job put together by mossad/the CIA, and they decided to pin it on a random homeless crack addict

Could be.

He was described by the FBI as a "chronic loner", and a conspiracy theorist.

Interesting points:
DNA taken from hat and gloves processed in less than 24 hours (doesn't happen)
A random called gave information about Warner after the bomb went off (what kind of information)?
Warned called a "Computer geek" and a "5G critic" (What the actual living fuck? Super smart computer geek, yet dumb towards computers?)
Warned only arrested in 1978 for Felony drug charge, marijuana, no DNA would have been taken
Was a loner and allegedly played a song from the 70's song called "Downtown"
Surveillance around the RV showed no one else around it, leading them to believe Warner was the only one involved (What about 9/11, when 15 people 2 weeks later were rounded up?)
Transferred ownership of his longtime home for $0 to a friend out of LA, which avoids property tax laws on the person receiving it
Neighbors said that "recently" he had been receiving mail at home, instead of going to the Post Office
Neighbors said he was "odd" and cared deeply for his pets, even building a wheelchair ramp so they can get inside as they age
Neighbors said he had security cameras around his house

Quite honestly, it's a wonder how no one died there.

the do look somewhat similar but a few things stand out:
-he looks healthier (would say younger if his hair wasnt greyer) in OPs pic than that 2017 listing
-his face looks much wider in the 2017 pics, whereas in OPs pic it looks like a more taller face
-the natural parting of his hair is significantly different, its centered on the charley project, whereas its more to the side in OPs pic
-guy on website looks fatter yet also seems to have more prominent cheek bones

Judging by how the mug shot looks like it's been photo shipped into the pass port I sorta gotta think its fake.

5g is so high on the EM spectrum its borderline visible light. is why it, in its infancy, struggled to penetrate walls and why they wanted them every few hundred feet in larger cities

idk about now and I do recall it being a meme but the few legitimate critics i found of it who werent memeing happened to be professionals in the field still this, I'm in telecoms and from the rollout plans I've seen you need antennas every 50-100m for coverage at that frequency.

Would it be wrong to assume the video https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=vSDrQroP0Z4 is towers of 5g? i know it's almost if not impossible to tell a 4g tower vs a 5g one but
